MUSIC AND STORIES FOR CHILDREN AGED 0 TO 12

A children's literature publisher but also a music label and audio producer, Joyvox surrounds itself with artists and performers, actors, authors and musicians that care about the world of childhood, about passing on different cultural legacies and the possibility of learning about the world through words and music.

A publishing house, it designs audio content available on digital platforms and is always developing content suitable for new devices and media.

Discover the two collections from Joyvox.

In a funny way, the edutainment and fun collection helps children as they discover the world. The heritage collection introduces famous books in a gentle and poetic world through versions adapted for children.

Joyvox has sound books for toddlers, CD books and also audio books, giving star billing to illustrations, modern musical arrangements and the actors' performance.

This collection of CD books and audio books helps children as they discover the world and learn. Instruments, sounds and emotions: children learn about their surroundings through play and at their own pace.

The ZANIMOMUSIC collection are designed with the Marie Jaëll Montessori Association.

EARLY LEARNING WITH MUSIC: DEVELOPMENT AND EXPRESSION FOR CHILDREN FROM THEIR EARLIEST AGE.

The Marie Jaëll Montessori Association offers a unique sensory approach to music. It combines the Montessori method with the pioneering work of musician Marie Jaëll who proposed using the body's consciousness and sensitivity to touch when playing an instrument.

All year round, the association offers early learning with music and lessons for children and adults alike.

The Marie Jaëll Montessori Association has poured all its expertise and teaching experience into the ZANIMOMUSIC series. Fun and funny, the Zanimomusic world is ideal for early learning workshops and musical events for children from 6 months.

Lyrics from Jean de la Fontaine
Music by Marc Demais

La Fontaine's Fables in songs revisits a classical landmark of French literature and transforms the well-known fables in urban pop songs with catchy tunes for teenagers.

An album as education as it is artistic. This album aims to democratize the classical texts through modern music enjoyed by children from 8 to 14 years old.

• A project accredited by Château-Thierry hometown of Jean de la Fontaine, to celebrate the 400 years of the birth of the author.

• A fun way especially for teachers, to teach students to learn and love the satirical and humanist fables.

• An album as educational as it is artistic.

L'Orage à la Maison

A musical tale that sensitively tackles a child's emotions when facing arguments and, sometimes, the separation of his/her parents.

Like Alice in Wonderland, the reader enters Arthur's poetic, watery imaginary world, and travels with him through all his emotional stages. Arthur meets a number of characters, including the Healer Octopus and the Hermit Crab Bernard, who helps him to get rid of harmful thoughts. Each character plays a part in Arthur's growth, helping him to understand that he is not the «tempest» of his parents. With the soothing voice of Mélanie Doutey and illustrated entirely in coloured pencil by Mathilde Bédouet, this musical tale gives parents a chance to talk to their children, through pictures and music, about a subject that is not always easy to discuss.

- An album that captures children's feelings in words and pictures, featuring the sensitive voice of Mélanie Doutey.
- A text by Catherine Verlaquet, author of «Fantôme de l'Opéra» published by La Martinière Jeunesse.
- Music and original songs composed by Marc Demais, mixing a modern style with aquatic sounds.
- A book to address challenging topics such as divorce, arguments, separation, ...

NINA

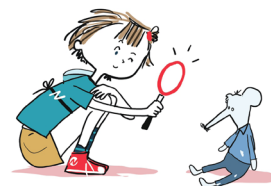

Agent secret du quotidien

The series that allows children to read on their own like grown-ups !

Four stories for intermediate readers written by Catherine Verlaquet and illustrated by Cléo Wehrlin

Nina, a curious, mischievous little girl (and a bit of a tomboy), is determined to solve cases like a secret agent! In each story, Nina investigates and finds, for example, the owner of a lost cuddly toy, erases the traces of a chocolate milk spill on her little brother (in «nobody knows, nobody sees» mode), helps her friend Arthur to wear blue sequined shoes because he really wants to (but it's not easy to admit it in front of his friends), discovers a treasure in her garden during confinement... With Nina, life becomes exciting, and the reading is enriching! We would all love to have a friend like her !

- A series of stories that offers children aged 7 to 10 an introduction to reading through pictures, leading on to more developed works of children's literature.
- Catherine Verlaquet portrays an engaging and curious character, and each volume deals with a subject of a child's daily.
- Audio commentary available online, interpreted by Domitille.
- Musical arrangements by Marc Demais.
- Modern illustrations reminiscent of Sempé's cartoon style.

Les Vilains Petits

Read by Nicolas Guillemot, Nicolas Gaspar, Jonathan Salmon
and Laurette Tessier
Texts by Catherine Verlaquet
Directed by Bénédicte Guichardon

Maya, Loan and Valentin are inseparable. But when a new, somewhat fearless boy joins the class, the rules of the game change. As the days pass, this mini-society of children will experience highs and low, changing alliances and moments of bonding and friendship.

This theatrical interpretation of Les Vilains Petits was born of a collaboration between Catherine Verlaquet and Joyvox. The actors step behind the microphone and the director extends her role to become the narrator.

The text "Les Vilains Petits" is listed on the French national curriculum for the school year.

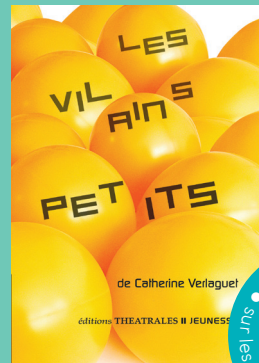

Adapted for children aged 8 and above and studied in cycle III classes (year 7 - year 8), the play Les Vilains Petits explores otherness and integrates lessons at school where friendship often goes with cruelty.

Les Vilains Petits is published by Éditions Théâtrales Jeunesse
éditions THEATRALES II JEUNESSE
